PROXUS JOINT VENTURE ANNOUNCED

Granatt HR and Professional Payroll Solutions Join Forces to Consolidate Payroll, Human Resources and Benefits

Fort Washington, PA - February 28, 2007 - Granatt HR and Professional Payroll Solutions are pleased to announce the formation of PROXUS, a joint venture created to deliver the full range of payroll, human resources and benefits services. The word PROXUS, derived from the Latin word 'procuratio' or having the authority to act on behalf of, aptly describes how clients are able to partner with PROXUS to, "manage the business of employment" allowing the client to focus on growing their business. Located in Fort Washington, the two companies have successfully provided customized and integrated service solutions to their respective clients for the past three years. Under the PROXUS moniker, clients will realize an even higher level of service, support and integration.

The majority of small and medium-size companies are normally unable to hire experts in payroll, human resources and benefits due to prohibitive costs -- until now. PROXUS' joint venture enables companies to simply consolidate and outsource these non-core business critical tasks to achieve the cost savings, time efficiencies and expertise that accompany this model. The result of consolidation and outsourcing provides companies with more time to focus on core business responsibilities and higher level HR strategies.

PROXUS Principal Greg Gast, SPHR, is passionate about the company's ability to provide clients with the best and most comprehensive solutions to today's business critical tasks.
